Definitions

Overall Score	Whenever the report refers to your Overall Score this score has been calculated by averaging all responses to a particular survey item (or all the items within a competency). Your Self responses are not included.
Company Norm	In some reports a custom norm score is shown for survey questions and competencies to provide a comparison point for those competencies and behaviors. This custom norm score represents the average Overall Score specific to the leaders of that organization or department.
3 Rater Minimum	In order to protect the anonymity of your raters, ratings are not reported for a group if fewer than 3 raters responded to the survey, except for your Self ratings and your Boss ratings. If fewer than 3 raters for a particular rating group responded to the survey "No Data" or "Data Removed" will appear. The ratings from any removed group are not included in the data anywhere in the report, but their names are still listed in the rater list, and they are counted in the respondent totals on the cover of the report.
No Data/Data Removed	The phrase "No Data" or "Data Removed" may appear on the report if fewer than 3 raters from a particular rater group responded to the survey, or if no raters responded. If all raters in a group selected "Don't Know/Not Applicable," "No Data" may also show.

Definitions of terms used in the report facilitate interpretation.

List of Raters

The following people were selected as raters. These are the people who were asked to provide feedback. It is possible that not all of them responded to the survey.

Self	Sample Participant
Boss	Linda Hill
Peers	Bernard Bass Marshall Goldsmith Richard Hackman Christina Harbridge Rosabeth Kanter Jerry Porras Edgar Schein Margaret Wheatley
Direct Reports	Chris Argyris Warren Bennis James Collins Donald Schon Peter Senge

Invited raters or actual respondents can be listed to facilitate interpretation.

Report Reading Tips

The 360-Degree Feedback process is designed to help you gain awareness of your strengths and the areas in need of development. Specifically, this is a unique opportunity to learn about yourself from the people who work with you. The items in this survey were selected so that the results will:

- Provide insight into your impact on others.
- Show how you are seen and perceived as a leader.
- Highlight strengths and opportunities for growth and development.

Before you read your report:

Take a few moments to reflect on the bigger picture - your career. Thinking about your answers to the following questions will help you set priorities for your development.

- What immediate challenges are you faced with in your job?
- Where do you want to be in a year? In five years?
- What do you need to accomplish to get there?

As you read your report, ask yourself:

- What are the consistent themes in my report?
- Are there any surprises?
- Do I treat groups of people differently (e.g., is there a discrepancy in how one group rated me vs. another group?)

When reading the comments section, remember:

- Each comment represents the opinion of only one person.
- Don't focus too much on any one comment.
- Instead, look for themes or patterns among several comments.

In-report instructions help feedback recipients get the most out of the report. Ten-page interpretation guide also available.

Keep in mind:

If you are like most people, you will find some surprises in your feedback. Keep in mind that the benefits of gaining self-awareness outweigh the costs of any temporary discomfort associated with learning new information about yourself.

Graphical Display of Data

3D Group reports are designed so that the most important information is right there when you need them.

Graphical display explanation page helps feedback recipients understand how to read the graphs in the report.

Overall Competency Results

The number of survey questions that belong to each competency is displayed here. Because some competencies will have more questions than others, use the Average Score when comparing your behavior across competencies.

Averages exclude Self scores.

The hills chart displays your overall ratings for each competency, broken out to show how many raters scored you in each category. Your self score is not included.

Item Level Results

Ratings are broken out by rater group with group averages shown in the shaded column. Ratings of "NA/Don't Know" are not shown.

The rating scale depicts extreme ratings color-coded as red and green.

The hills chart displays your overall ratings (w/o Self score).

Group averages are displayed graphically.

Circles show how many individuals selected each response.

The one area that this person needs to work on is...

Be more honest with constructive feedback. You are not willing to have hard conversations and tell us when we need to improve.

Delegating (it is possible that Sample needs more staff). Sample often seems very stressed and it appears that she has more on her plate than she should.

Delegating more tasks to others and knowing when to say "no" to less important requests in order to avoid stress and work burn out.

expectation to direct report is too high. Sample often talks about how direct reports aren't capable - if that's true, do something about it!

I really can't think of any. Sample is just great to work with!

I sometimes push my people too hard.

Mentor, coach and develop staff Communicate better

More delegation. You hold onto tasks too much - let us try things that are new. Sometimes you use us for tasks when you are too busy but we never get the whole task, only a small part of it.

Needs to make decisions more quickly. I sometimes get the impression that Sample spends a lot of time trying to figure out which option is least likely to upset the boss.

Provide more feedback to his direct reports in performance and career growth. Assign more challenging tasks.

Sample holds very high standards for skills and behavior of the team. However, Sample is reluctant to confront or express standards to individuals doesn't feel folks are doing their best or their share of the team's work.

Sample is a people pleaser. Constantly trying to make sure no one's feelings are hurt. We need less of this babysitting approach, and more focus.

Sample needs to set higher expectations. I don't know what my goals are for the year until the year is almost over - and then they get adjusted to make sure I meet them. This seems nice, but really it is demotivating.

Understand financial implications better of some decisions, obtain more knowledge regarding the challenges associated with development and manufacturing of devices

This person's most effective behavior/skill at work is...

1. Is very good with figures 2. Very good memory

Communication skills are exceptional. Your presentations are always top notch. You are particularly good at given relevant examples, and analogies and making sure the audience is with you.

e-mails are always so clear, and concise (even if they do take too long to arrive sometimes).

Great at customer service and handling people when they are upset. I've never seen anyone so calm and friendly when talking to someone who is exactly the opposite!

He is very supportive with his staff, willing to listen and give advice, enthusiastic. He takes into account the company, the employee and other stakeholders when making a decision. He tries his best to be fair.

HIS COMMITMENT TO TEAM EFFORTS, COLLOBRATIVE NATURE & STRAIGHTFORWARDNESS.

I know the business and I know my people.

Interpersonal skills, in particular related to working with other teams. Sample can always calm a situation down. Developing each individual employee and building teams.

Sample is really is a true ACME CORP believer. I wouldn't be surprised if Sample talks up our company to strangers on a regular basis. Truly believes in the vision of what we are trying to do.

Sample respects my experience and knowledge of our industry and allows me to do my job without micromanaging. Sample does not behave like a tyrant and treats people in an evenhanded and respectful manner.

Very Confident and loyal personality. Gives strenght to his staff. His direct report and staff trust him fully. In short a good Captain for ACME CORP

You are the nicest boss I've ever had. Its just so pleasant to work with you. I always know you care about me.

You explain things very well. You provide great examples, and check to make sure everyone understands before moving on.
